From the Rector

From the Gospel of Luke (15:11-32):

“Then Jesus said, ‘There was a man who had two sons. The younger of them said to his father, ‘Father, give me the share of the property that will belong to me.’ So he divided his property between them. A few days later the younger son gathered all he had and travelled to a distant country, and there he squandered his property in dissolute living. When he had spent everything, a severe famine took place throughout that country, and he began to be in need. So he went and hired himself out to one of the citizens of that country, who sent him to his fields to feed the pigs. He would gladly have filled himself with the pods that the pigs were eating; and no one gave him anything. But when he came to himself he said, ‘How many of my father’s hired hands have bread enough and to spare, but here I am dying of hunger! I will get up and go to my father, and I will say to him, ‘Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you; I am no longer worthy to be called your son; treat me like one of your hired hands.’ ” So he set off and went to his father. But while he was still far off, his father saw him and was filled with compassion; he ran and put his arms around him and kissed him. Then the son said to him, ‘Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you; I am no longer worthy to be called your son.’ But the father said to his slaves, ‘Quickly, bring out a robe—the best one—and put it on him; put a ring on his finger and sandals on his feet. And get the fatted calf and kill it, and let us eat and celebrate; for this son of mine was dead and is alive again; he was lost and is found!’ And they began to celebrate.

‘Now his elder son was in the field; and when he came and approached the house, he heard music and dancing. He called one of the slaves and asked what was going on. He replied, ‘Your brother has come, and your father has killed the fatted calf, because he has got him back safe and sound.’ Then he became angry and refused to go in. His father came out and began to plead with him. But he answered his father, ‘Listen! For all these years I have been working like a slave for you, and I have never disobeyed your command; yet you have never given me even a young goat so that I might celebrate with my friends. But when this son of yours came back, who has devoured your property with prostitutes, you killed the fatted calf for him!’ Then the father said to him, ‘Son, you are always with me, and all that is mine is yours. But we had to celebrate and rejoice, because this brother of yours was dead and has come to life; he was lost and has been found.’ ”

*****

As Lent is now upon us, my brothers and sisters, in the name of God the Merciful, God the Holy, God the Graceful One, I urge you to repent and return to the Lord your God.

For the Lord longs for you with the aching heart of a father and mother who long to embrace their wayward children.

Do not tarry. Return with haste. Embrace your true calling as a holy child of God. Know that even the most grievous of sins cannot separate you from the love of Christ Jesus. You have been made worthy to be called a co-heir with Christ. May you know this deep truth over the next 40 days.

FROM THE SENIOR WARDEN

“Remember that you are dust and to dust you shall return...”

As Ash Wednesday and Lent approach, I have once again been thinking about what the season of Lent really means to me and how I can best live into the resurrection. I know I mentioned in the past that I typically don't give anything up for Lent. This still holds true because giving up some first world luxury for me hardly compares to the ultimate sacrifice of Jesus' life. But I do try and focus on where I can open space in the middle of all of my day-to-day responsibilities for letting the spirit enter.

While Lent can include personal sacrifice, the goal of the season probably isn't really to better my life yet it should be to center my life on what is the most important, deepening my spiritual life. Reflecting on where I am placing my time and energy can help me identify what I need to shift or change to open up time and space.

I came across these suggestions for fasting during Lent which have been attributed to Pope Francis.

- Fast from hurting words and say kind words
- Fast from sadness and be filled with gratitude
- Fast from anger and be filled with patience
- Fast from pessimism and be filled with hope
- Fast from worries and trust in God
- Fast from complaints and contemplate simplicity
- Fast from pressures and be prayerful
- Fast from bitterness and fill your heart with joy
- Fast from selfishness and be compassionate to others
- Fast from grudges and be reconciled
- Fast from words and be silent so you can listen

Women Alive in Mind, Body and Spirit celebrated Mardi Gras with a pancake breakfast at the home of Valarie Prestwood on Tuesday, February 25.

FROM THE JUNIOR WARDEN

Since I was a teen adult, whenever pressed, I have strived to find the answer I thought would serve the questioner. Let me tell you that for me the answer has not been easy. Impromptu words? Let me think about it and get back to you on that... Writing to you today at what seemed to be a moment's notice, how about some "Big Hits & Fazed Cookies"?

From March 2019: Friends, Parishioners, Citizens: I write not to tarry over Caesar but to paraphrase him. Embrace the Ides of March. Follow this link: <https://youtu.be/fiLaNEFyCiM?t=129>. By the time this gets to you, spring will be only 3 weeks in the near future. Can I get Yaymen? Following a line of thought, previously beaten to within an inch of excess, I wish to say thank you very much to those who committed their efforts so far to the task of snow and ice clearing. It's probably not over yet though, so stop by and choose a week to call your own.

From April: Not in any direct correlation to Easter, I have been thinking, "Hey, how about if we resurrect the forgotten Buildings and Grounds Committee?" I used quotation marks here because I actually did think those exact words. Yes, really.

From June: Things that make you go Hmm...Does anyone remember that song? Check it out on YouTube <https://youtu.be/XF2ayWcJfxo?t=258>. My day job keeps me pretty well occupied so you have probably not seen much of me of late. Mostly after everyone has gone home, I walk the halls and the outer areas, putting an eyeball on everything, picking up litter and debris, monitoring the recycle bins for overflow, checking the doors, replacing light bulbs, and other things.

From July: I like thinking of myself as a FLAT. How about you? On a recent Friday evening there were rainbows in abundance over town. I was wearing colored suspenders in acknowledgement of the cause for those celebrating and noticed eyebrows or smiles at the grocery. What? So, I like rainbows! On my way home, down the street to the west, away from the crowd, I was doing what I love to do, where I love to do it. I am a Friend (of) Los Alamos TOTH.

From October: I'm back. Oh, maybe some of you didn't realize that I was not all here? Well, I don't tell very many about that. Since writing to you last I enjoyed travels to places familiar, and a couple not so. I chased rainbows on my boat ride. I walked in the woods with little more than a handmade smile. I revisited some of the fond memories with old friends I hold dear. Now, with that adventure behind me, it feels good to be back in the community I have grown to love. On most days some thoughts of you all and our church were there in my mind but on one of those mornings the fire alarm called me needing attention. A reminder of purpose, perhaps.

From December: By the time you read this, something more important will probably be more worthwhile reading. But, thanks for being here nonetheless. Would glorious be they who would live in service to family, to church, maybe to state, or ordinarily to those other than oneself? I dunno, anyone care to weigh in on those? In service to our church, for the most part, I am a behind-the-scenes actor and rarely ask for help. Recently, I felt compelled though and did ask, with Cynthia's email blast (thank you my dear, I hold you in my heart), for an impromptu work day on November 16, offering only 1 day's notice. I thank all of you for your thoughts, although we did have a successful day and I am proud of what was accomplished. Ask for photos? We got the evaporative coolers drained and the GC storage looking AMAZING, after years of neglect.

Thanks for allowing me to trip (or stumble?) down memory foam. Look for new words of wit or wisdom in future issues, though rarely at the same time. As always, I offer a piece of my mind but eternally wish, for you all, the peace of yours.

Mark Hartman, Your Junior Warden

Altar Guild is looking for Church linens that might be tucked away in a safe place somewhere and asking for help in locating them. Purificators, lavabo towels, corporal are among the missing. Please check your ironing basket or laundry hamper to see if some of them are hiding away and return them promptly to the Sacristy. Thanks for the help!

On Ash Wednesday Fr. Chris and Pastor Nicole Ferry serve up Ashes to Go in downtown Los Alamos.
